Robert Garland, Ph.D.

Roy D. and Margaret B. Wooster
Professor of the Classics
Colgate University

---

Professor Robert Garland is the Roy D. and Margaret B. Wooster Professor of the Classics at Colgate University, where he served for 13 years as Chair of the Department of the Classics and was Director of the Division of the Humanities. He received his B.A. in Classics from The University of Manchester in 1969, where he graduated with first class honours. He obtained his M.A. in Classics from McMaster University in 1973 and his Ph.D. in Ancient History from University College London in 1981. Professor Garland was the recipient of the George Grote Prize in Ancient History in 1982. He was a Fulbright Scholar and Fellow at The Center for Hellenic Studies in Washington, DC (1985–1986), and a visiting scholar at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton (1990). He has taught at the University of Reading, the University of London, Keele University, and the University of Maryland at College Park. He was also the Benjamin Meaker Visiting Professor at the University of Bristol (1995). In addition to his 25 years teaching Classics at Colgate University, Professor Garland has taught English and Drama to secondary school students and lectured at universities throughout Britain and at the British School at Athens.

Professor Garland's research focuses on the social, religious, political, and cultural history of both Greece and Rome. He has written 11 books and many articles in both academic and popular journals. His books include The Greek Way of Death (2nd ed., Bristol Classical Press, 2001; Japanese translation, 2008); The Piraeus: From the Fifth to the First Century B.C. (2nd ed., Bristol Classical Press, 2001); The Greek Way of Life: From Conception to Old Age (Duckworth and Cornell, 1990); Introducing New Gods: The Politics of Athenian Religion (Duckworth and Cornell, 1992); Religion and the Greeks (Bristol Classical Press, 1994); The Eye of the Beholder: Deformity and Disability in the Graeco-Roman World (2nd ed., Bristol Classical Press, 2010); Daily Life of the Ancient Greeks (2nd ed., Greenwood, 2008; Greek translation, 2001); Surviving Greek Tragedy (Duckworth, 2004); Julius Caesar (Bristol Phoenix Press, 2004); Celebrity in Antiquity: From Media Tarts to Tabloid Queens (Duckworth, 2006); and most recently, Hannibal (Duckworth, 2010). His expertise has been featured in The History Channel's The True Story of Troy, and he has often served as a consultant for educational film companies.

Professor Garland has previously taught Greece and Rome: An Integrated History of the Ancient Mediterranean for The Great Courses. ■
